

Our Winter Catalogue and Holiday Price List Mailed Free on Application.

NOTTINGHAM LACE CURTAINS

From an Eastern importer we made a heavy purchase. The goods have arrived. It would be useless to attempt description. The story is best told at the counter. NOTTINGHAM LACE CURTAINS, per pair, 65c, $1, $1.25, $1.45, $2, etc., in white or ecru.

Ladies' Cashmere Ribbed Vests

A pretty invoice of 120 dozen just received. They are certainly finer than anything in this market at the price. We have them in White, Blue and Pink, fine Cashmere Wool, sleeveless, 90 cents. With long sleeves and high neck, $1.20. Other lines of Underwear nearly as interesting. All qualities for Ladies and Misses.

NOVELTY HAIR ORNAMENTS.

Quite a pretty assortment just in from the East. Prices, 10 cents to 25 cents.

JEWELRY DEPARTMENT.

PARIS EXPOSITION, 1889.

COLGATE & CO. were awarded the ONLY GOLD MEDAL for American TOILET SOAPS and a gold medal for their Handkerchief Perfumes and Toilet Waters. We carry a full line of these goods.

COLGATE &amp; CO.'S

Extract of Pansy Blossom.
Lotus Blossom.
Mountain Violet.
Society Club.
White Rose.
Lily of the Valley.
Cashmere Bouquet.
Seventh Regiment.
Caprice.
Musk, Etc.

Two-ounce bottles, with glass stoppers, 65c. Vaseline Cold Cream, 15c. Camphor Ice, 14c. Vaseline Jelly, 8c. Florida Water, 3-oz. bottles, 10c. Bay Rum, 4-oz. bottles, 10c. Ed. Pinaud's (French) Cosmetics, 5c. Etc., Etc.

C. H. GILMAN,

REAR HOUSE, J Street, SACRAMENTO--CAL.

WATER, S. &amp; CO.,

Wine, Liquor and Cigar Dealers,

1008 and 1010 Second St., Sacramento, Cal.

FRUITS, SEED, PRODUCE, ETC.

W. H. WOOD &amp; CO.,

Wholesale Dealers in California and Oregon Produce and Fruit

POTATOES A SPECIALTY.

Nos. 117 to 125 J St., Sacramento.

S. GERSON &amp; CO.,

Wholesale Fruit, Produce &amp; Commission Merchants,

SACRAMENTO, CAL.

Curtis Bros. &amp; Co.,

General Commission Merchants and Wholesale Dealers in Fruit and Produce.

308, 310 and 312 E. St., Sacramento.

W. R. Strong Company,

Wholesale Fruit and Produce Dealers,

SACRAMENTO, CAL.

MURPHY, GREGORY, FRANK GREGORY.

GREGORY BROS. CO.,

Wholesale Dealers in Produce and Fruit.

Fruit, Produce &amp; Commission Merchants,

SACRAMENTO, CAL.

Curtis Bros. &amp; Co.,

General Commission Merchants and Wholesale Dealers in Fruit and Produce.

308, 310 and 312 E. St., Sacramento.

W. R. Strong Company,

Wholesale Fruit and Produce Dealers,

SACRAMENTO, CAL.

MURPHY, GREGORY, FRANK GREGORY.

GREGORY BROS. CO.,

Wholesale Dealers in Produce and Fruit.

Fruit, Produce &amp; Commission Merchants,

SACRAMENTO, CAL.

Curtis Bros. &amp; Co.,

NEW TO-DAY.

Advertisements of Meetings, Notices, Wants, Lost and Found, For Sale, To Let and similar notices under this heading are inserted for 5 cents per line the first time and 3 cents per line each subsequent time. All notices of this character will be found under this heading.

Regular Monthly Meeting of the Hibernia Benevolent Society will be held this Monday (Monday) EVENING at 7:30. Women's Society. W. J. STANN, Secretary.

Stated Assembly of Sacramento Council No. 1, R. & S. Masters, THIS (Monday) EVENING at 7:30. Women's Society. W. J. STANN, Secretary.

To officers and members of Sunset Park, No. 2, R. & S. G. W. The night meeting has been changed from Saturday at Pioneer Hall to MONDAY, at Pioneer Hall, 100 E. St. Apply at 217 and 219 J Street.

TO LEASE-65 ACRES OF LAND, known as the Holland Fruit Farm, located near Little's Bridge. Will produce alfalfa, hops, or any kind of vegetable, and is suitable for dairy purposes. Thirty acres in good bearing land. A good house and barn on premises. Apply at 217 and 219 J Street.

BARBER SHOP FOR SALE. GOOD reasons given for selling; good location and lease. Apply at this office. 624 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

WANTED-ONE MAN WITH A GOOD REPUTATION for city and country work. Apply at residence of DR. BRUNN, 1409 K Street. 625 E. 2nd.

EAST OF THE ROCKIES.

Twenty Squares of Property Burned in Mobile, Alabama.

HIGH WATERS IN NEW YORK.

California Produces One-half of the Grape Crop of the United States--Etc.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

VITICULTURE.

California Produces One-half of the Grape Crop of the United States.

WASHINGTON, October 26th.--Colonel H. Gardner, special agent of the Census Department for the collection of statistics relating to viticulture, a branch of agriculture which has never before received official attention in this country.

He says: "I spent three months in California this season, giving official attention to its viticultural interests. The grapes grown in California to-day include every variety that have made European vineyards famous, and no other vineyard in the world are all these splendid grapes growing side by side, and they make California the grape grower's paradise. I have no doubt that it will surprise even the grape and wine-growers themselves to know that there are vineyards in California which produce more than 100,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that the United States produces 500,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that California produces one-half of the grape crop of the United States--Etc."

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

VITICULTURE.

California Produces One-half of the Grape Crop of the United States.

WASHINGTON, October 26th.--Colonel H. Gardner, special agent of the Census Department for the collection of statistics relating to viticulture, a branch of agriculture which has never before received official attention in this country.

He says: "I spent three months in California this season, giving official attention to its viticultural interests. The grapes grown in California to-day include every variety that have made European vineyards famous, and no other vineyard in the world are all these splendid grapes growing side by side, and they make California the grape grower's paradise. I have no doubt that it will surprise even the grape and wine-growers themselves to know that there are vineyards in California which produce more than 100,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that the United States produces 500,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that California produces one-half of the grape crop of the United States--Etc."

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

VITICULTURE.

California Produces One-half of the Grape Crop of the United States.

WASHINGTON, October 26th.--Colonel H. Gardner, special agent of the Census Department for the collection of statistics relating to viticulture, a branch of agriculture which has never before received official attention in this country.

He says: "I spent three months in California this season, giving official attention to its viticultural interests. The grapes grown in California to-day include every variety that have made European vineyards famous, and no other vineyard in the world are all these splendid grapes growing side by side, and they make California the grape grower's paradise. I have no doubt that it will surprise even the grape and wine-growers themselves to know that there are vineyards in California which produce more than 100,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that the United States produces 500,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that California produces one-half of the grape crop of the United States--Etc."

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

VITICULTURE.

California Produces One-half of the Grape Crop of the United States.

WASHINGTON, October 26th.--Colonel H. Gardner, special agent of the Census Department for the collection of statistics relating to viticulture, a branch of agriculture which has never before received official attention in this country.

He says: "I spent three months in California this season, giving official attention to its viticultural interests. The grapes grown in California to-day include every variety that have made European vineyards famous, and no other vineyard in the world are all these splendid grapes growing side by side, and they make California the grape grower's paradise. I have no doubt that it will surprise even the grape and wine-growers themselves to know that there are vineyards in California which produce more than 100,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that the United States produces 500,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that California produces one-half of the grape crop of the United States--Etc."

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

VITICULTURE.

California Produces One-half of the Grape Crop of the United States.

WASHINGTON, October 26th.--Colonel H. Gardner, special agent of the Census Department for the collection of statistics relating to viticulture, a branch of agriculture which has never before received official attention in this country.

He says: "I spent three months in California this season, giving official attention to its viticultural interests. The grapes grown in California to-day include every variety that have made European vineyards famous, and no other vineyard in the world are all these splendid grapes growing side by side, and they make California the grape grower's paradise. I have no doubt that it will surprise even the grape and wine-growers themselves to know that there are vineyards in California which produce more than 100,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that the United States produces 500,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that California produces one-half of the grape crop of the United States--Etc."

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

VITICULTURE.

California Produces One-half of the Grape Crop of the United States.

WASHINGTON, October 26th.--Colonel H. Gardner, special agent of the Census Department for the collection of statistics relating to viticulture, a branch of agriculture which has never before received official attention in this country.

He says: "I spent three months in California this season, giving official attention to its viticultural interests. The grapes grown in California to-day include every variety that have made European vineyards famous, and no other vineyard in the world are all these splendid grapes growing side by side, and they make California the grape grower's paradise. I have no doubt that it will surprise even the grape and wine-growers themselves to know that there are vineyards in California which produce more than 100,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that the United States produces 500,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that California produces one-half of the grape crop of the United States--Etc."

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

VITICULTURE.

California Produces One-half of the Grape Crop of the United States.

WASHINGTON, October 26th.--Colonel H. Gardner, special agent of the Census Department for the collection of statistics relating to viticulture, a branch of agriculture which has never before received official attention in this country.

He says: "I spent three months in California this season, giving official attention to its viticultural interests. The grapes grown in California to-day include every variety that have made European vineyards famous, and no other vineyard in the world are all these splendid grapes growing side by side, and they make California the grape grower's paradise. I have no doubt that it will surprise even the grape and wine-growers themselves to know that there are vineyards in California which produce more than 100,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that the United States produces 500,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that California produces one-half of the grape crop of the United States--Etc."

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

VITICULTURE.

California Produces One-half of the Grape Crop of the United States.

WASHINGTON, October 26th.--Colonel H. Gardner, special agent of the Census Department for the collection of statistics relating to viticulture, a branch of agriculture which has never before received official attention in this country.

He says: "I spent three months in California this season, giving official attention to its viticultural interests. The grapes grown in California to-day include every variety that have made European vineyards famous, and no other vineyard in the world are all these splendid grapes growing side by side, and they make California the grape grower's paradise. I have no doubt that it will surprise even the grape and wine-growers themselves to know that there are vineyards in California which produce more than 100,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that the United States produces 500,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that California produces one-half of the grape crop of the United States--Etc."

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

VITICULTURE.

California Produces One-half of the Grape Crop of the United States.

WASHINGTON, October 26th.--Colonel H. Gardner, special agent of the Census Department for the collection of statistics relating to viticulture, a branch of agriculture which has never before received official attention in this country.

He says: "I spent three months in California this season, giving official attention to its viticultural interests. The grapes grown in California to-day include every variety that have made European vineyards famous, and no other vineyard in the world are all these splendid grapes growing side by side, and they make California the grape grower's paradise. I have no doubt that it will surprise even the grape and wine-growers themselves to know that there are vineyards in California which produce more than 100,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that the United States produces 500,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that California produces one-half of the grape crop of the United States--Etc."

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

VITICULTURE.

California Produces One-half of the Grape Crop of the United States.

WASHINGTON, October 26th.--Colonel H. Gardner, special agent of the Census Department for the collection of statistics relating to viticulture, a branch of agriculture which has never before received official attention in this country.

He says: "I spent three months in California this season, giving official attention to its viticultural interests. The grapes grown in California to-day include every variety that have made European vineyards famous, and no other vineyard in the world are all these splendid grapes growing side by side, and they make California the grape grower's paradise. I have no doubt that it will surprise even the grape and wine-growers themselves to know that there are vineyards in California which produce more than 100,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that the United States produces 500,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that California produces one-half of the grape crop of the United States--Etc."

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

VITICULTURE.

will reach probably three-quarters of a million, with an insurance of $400,000. Sixty-five men were killed and many more were overcome with heat and smoke, and had narrow escapes from death.

The alarm for fire at Stewart &amp; Butt's Mill had scarcely been given when a second alarm was sounded for the burning of the residence of the city in danger, and thousands of men, women and children rushed to the scene. No one felt safe, even in the business portion of the city, and wagons, drays and all kinds of vehicles were engaged in carrying away valuable books and papers, more than twenty squares were burned. The tracks of all the railroads centering here have been obstructed by the debris in the burned district, and business is delayed.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

VITICULTURE.

California Produces One-half of the Grape Crop of the United States.

WASHINGTON, October 26th.--Colonel H. Gardner, special agent of the Census Department for the collection of statistics relating to viticulture, a branch of agriculture which has never before received official attention in this country.

He says: "I spent three months in California this season, giving official attention to its viticultural interests. The grapes grown in California to-day include every variety that have made European vineyards famous, and no other vineyard in the world are all these splendid grapes growing side by side, and they make California the grape grower's paradise. I have no doubt that it will surprise even the grape and wine-growers themselves to know that there are vineyards in California which produce more than 100,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that the United States produces 500,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that California produces one-half of the grape crop of the United States--Etc."

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

VITICULTURE.

California Produces One-half of the Grape Crop of the United States.

WASHINGTON, October 26th.--Colonel H. Gardner, special agent of the Census Department for the collection of statistics relating to viticulture, a branch of agriculture which has never before received official attention in this country.

He says: "I spent three months in California this season, giving official attention to its viticultural interests. The grapes grown in California to-day include every variety that have made European vineyards famous, and no other vineyard in the world are all these splendid grapes growing side by side, and they make California the grape grower's paradise. I have no doubt that it will surprise even the grape and wine-growers themselves to know that there are vineyards in California which produce more than 100,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that the United States produces 500,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that California produces one-half of the grape crop of the United States--Etc."

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

VITICULTURE.

California Produces One-half of the Grape Crop of the United States.

WASHINGTON, October 26th.--Colonel H. Gardner, special agent of the Census Department for the collection of statistics relating to viticulture, a branch of agriculture which has never before received official attention in this country.

He says: "I spent three months in California this season, giving official attention to its viticultural interests. The grapes grown in California to-day include every variety that have made European vineyards famous, and no other vineyard in the world are all these splendid grapes growing side by side, and they make California the grape grower's paradise. I have no doubt that it will surprise even the grape and wine-growers themselves to know that there are vineyards in California which produce more than 100,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that the United States produces 500,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that California produces one-half of the grape crop of the United States--Etc."

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

VITICULTURE.

California Produces One-half of the Grape Crop of the United States.

WASHINGTON, October 26th.--Colonel H. Gardner, special agent of the Census Department for the collection of statistics relating to viticulture, a branch of agriculture which has never before received official attention in this country.

He says: "I spent three months in California this season, giving official attention to its viticultural interests. The grapes grown in California to-day include every variety that have made European vineyards famous, and no other vineyard in the world are all these splendid grapes growing side by side, and they make California the grape grower's paradise. I have no doubt that it will surprise even the grape and wine-growers themselves to know that there are vineyards in California which produce more than 100,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that the United States produces 500,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that California produces one-half of the grape crop of the United States--Etc."

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

VITICULTURE.

California Produces One-half of the Grape Crop of the United States.

WASHINGTON, October 26th.--Colonel H. Gardner, special agent of the Census Department for the collection of statistics relating to viticulture, a branch of agriculture which has never before received official attention in this country.

He says: "I spent three months in California this season, giving official attention to its viticultural interests. The grapes grown in California to-day include every variety that have made European vineyards famous, and no other vineyard in the world are all these splendid grapes growing side by side, and they make California the grape grower's paradise. I have no doubt that it will surprise even the grape and wine-growers themselves to know that there are vineyards in California which produce more than 100,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that the United States produces 500,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that California produces one-half of the grape crop of the United States--Etc."

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

VITICULTURE.

California Produces One-half of the Grape Crop of the United States.

WASHINGTON, October 26th.--Colonel H. Gardner, special agent of the Census Department for the collection of statistics relating to viticulture, a branch of agriculture which has never before received official attention in this country.

He says: "I spent three months in California this season, giving official attention to its viticultural interests. The grapes grown in California to-day include every variety that have made European vineyards famous, and no other vineyard in the world are all these splendid grapes growing side by side, and they make California the grape grower's paradise. I have no doubt that it will surprise even the grape and wine-growers themselves to know that there are vineyards in California which produce more than 100,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that the United States produces 500,000,000 gallons of wine annually, and that California produces one-half of the grape crop of the United States--Etc."

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

VITICULTURE.

California Produces One-half of the Grape Crop of the United States.

WASHINGTON, October 26th.--Colonel H.

DAILY RECORD-UNION

MONDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1890

ISSUED BY THE

SACRAMENTO PUBLISHING COMPANY.

Office, Third Street, between J and K.

THE DAILY RECORD-UNION,

Published six days in each week, with Double

Sheet on Saturdays, and

THE SUNDAY UNION,

Published every Sunday morning, making a splendid seven-day paper.

For one year, $2.00

For six months, $1.00

For three months, $0.50

Subscribers served by Carriers at FIFTY

CENTS per week. In all interior cities and towns

the paper can be had of the principal Periodical

Dealers, Newsmen and Agents.

THE SUNDAY UNION is served by Carriers at

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS per month.

THE WEEKLY UNION

Is the cheapest and most desirable Home,

News and Literary Journal published on the Pacific coast.

The WEEKLY UNION per year, $1.00

The SUNDAY UNION alone per year, $1.00

All these publications are sent either by Mail or Express to agents or single subscribers, with charges prepaid. All Postmasters are agents.

The Best Advertising Mediums on the Pacific

Coast.

Entered at the Postoffice at Sacramento as second-class matter.

San Francisco Agencies.

This paper is for sale at the following places:

E. P. Fisher, 2nd St., Merchants Exchange

Building; J. P. Smith, 2nd St., between J and K;

and at the Postoffice at Sacramento.

Also, for sale on all Trains leaving and arriving at Sacramento.

Weather Forecast

Forecast till 8 P. M. Monday: For Northern

California: Fair weather; nearly stationary temperature.

BALLOT REFORM AND THE DEMOCRACY.

The Democratic press continues to prate

about the ballot reform plan of that party,

and to assert that the Republican party in this State is the enemy of the system.

These conscientious journals are silent concerning the truth—that is, that the ballot

reform, was first advocated by the Republican leaders; that its best friends have been and are Republicans; that the only veto it ever had came from the pen of a Democratic Governor; that the only time a ballot reform law, such as that referred to,

was ever offered to a California Legislature, it was killed by a Democratic majority; that the Republican minority reported to the Legislature in favor of the passage of the same bill, practically, now

indorsed by the Democrats, while the majority of the committee recommended

"that the bill do not pass," and the Democratic Legislature adopted the report.

And that was no longer ago than the year

1889.

All the world knows that the Democratic was the bitter enemy of the Austrian ballot system in any form, no matter

what the modifications, until the leaders of the party saw that the mass of the people favored it, when, with conventional cunning, the party jumped into the boat and began to paddle it, and now, with amazing effrontery, it claims that it built

the craft, and is the originator of the whole scheme. We are free to admit that the bill introduced at the last session of our own Legislature was a draft prepared by the Federated Trades and the Young

Men's Reform Democratic League of San Francisco, the latter organization being formed for the express purpose of waging war against Boss Buckley, who dominated the late Legislature and who commanded

it to throw out the bill referred to, an order it unhesitatingly obeyed.

Every Republican elected to the approaching Legislature will be found voting for the reform system, and every one of them is found, prior to election, advocating the system. A secret and inviolable ballot is one of the earliest and cardinal

THE STANLEY DEMONSTRATION.

Its Character to be Determined by the

Mechanics and Laborers.

The committee of citizens who planned

the "Bucket Brigade" demonstration for

workmen to take place on Thursday

evening, when Senator Stanford visits the

city, have declared that feature off, so far

as their own action is concerned.

It appears that there are quite a number of

workmen and mechanics who prefer to have a voice in determining the nature of the proposed demonstration in which they are to participate, so the committee has decided to leave the entire arrangements to

the men themselves. They may agree to carry out the dinner-bucket feature originally proposed, or some other plan may be adopted.

The invitations sent out were intended to include all mechanics and laborers in the city who desired to participate in the demonstration, and not confined—as some persons

seem to have believed—to the employees of the railroad company.

Among the laborers it is said there are many Democrats who wish to show their friendship for Senator Stanford by taking part in the parade, but they object to doing

so if it is to be known as a Republican parade. Hence the committee, who are non-partisan, will join the ranks of the march-

ers. It is understood, however, that the services of the uniformed club of the

Markham Brigade, as an escort, will be acceptable.

For these reasons the committee wish it

understood that at the preliminary meeting to be held at the pavilion this evening

the whole matter will be left with the mechanics and laborers; to be arranged in whatever way may be most agreeable to them.

The proposed dinner-bucket feature was

suggested by the fact that a demonstration

of that character was made in honor of

General Harrison when he visited Chicago

two years ago during the Presidential campaign. It was regarded then as a very happy idea.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT, STATE OF CALifornia, county of Sacramento. In the matter of the estate of JOHN BRINTON, deceased.

Notice is hereby given that FRIDAY, the 7th

day of November, 1890, at 10 o'clock, A. M., at the Court house, in the city of Sacramento,

will be held the Court of said Court, at 10 o'clock,

for the purpose of hearing the application of

JAMES H. BRINTON, executor of the last will and

testamentary of said deceased, for the issuance

of letters of administration on the estate of

said deceased, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

THE STANLEY DEMONSTRATION.

Its Character to be Determined by the

Mechanics and Laborers.

The committee of citizens who planned

the "Bucket Brigade" demonstration for

workmen to take place on Thursday

evening, when Senator Stanford visits the

city, have declared that feature off, so far

as their own action is concerned.

It appears that there are quite a number of

workmen and mechanics who prefer to

have a voice in determining the nature of

the proposed demonstration in which they

are to participate, so the committee has

decided to leave the entire arrangements to

the men themselves. They may agree to carry out the dinner-bucket feature originally proposed, or some other plan may be adopted.

The invitations sent out were intended to include all mechanics and laborers in the

city who desired to participate in the demonstration, and not confined—as some persons

seem to have believed—to the employees of the railroad company.

Among the laborers it is said there are

many Democrats who wish to show their

friendship for Senator Stanford by taking

part in the parade, but they object to doing

so if it is to be known as a Republican parade. Hence the committee, who are non-partisan, will join the ranks of the march-

ers. It is understood, however, that the services of the uniformed club of the

Markham Brigade, as an escort, will be acceptable.

For these reasons the committee wish it

understood that at the preliminary meet-

ing to be held at the pavilion this evening

the whole matter will be left with the mechanics and laborers; to be arranged in

whatever way may be most agreeable to

them.

The proposed dinner-bucket feature was

suggested by the fact that a demonstration

of that character was made in honor of

General Harrison when he visited Chicago

two years ago during the Presidential campaign. It was regarded then as a very happy idea.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT, STATE OF CAL-

ifornia, county of Sacramento. In the matter of the estate of JOHN BRINTON, deceased.

Notice is hereby given that FRIDAY, the 7th

day of November, 1890, at 10 o'clock, A. M., at the Court house, in the city of Sacramento,

will be held the Court of said Court, at 10 o'clock,

for the purpose of hearing the application of

JAMES H. BRINTON, executor of the last will and

testamentary of said deceased, for the issuance

of letters of administration on the estate of

said deceased, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

said executor, and for the appointment of

ADVERTISEMENTS OF HALE BROS. &amp; CO.

There are other Hoses in the market that are fast black besides the "ONYX." But none of them give the wear that the "ONYX" does, because the dye has made them flimsy. If you try both kinds you will see the point.

Kensington Twist.

Kensington Twist is a new material of interest to fancy-work devotees. It is a smooth, twisted, cotton cord, for crocheting various articles of fancy work, and comes to us in

Pink, Ecru, Old Gold, Light Green, and Yellow. Price, 8 1/3 cents a ball.

CHILDREN'S WOOL HOSE.

Black Ribbed Cashmere Hose..... 25 cents

Black Heavy Ribbed Cashmere Hose..... 25 cents

Colored Cashmere Ribbed Hose..... 33 1/2 cents

Black Cashmere Hose, fine quality..... 50 cents

Colored Cashmere Hose, fine grade..... 50 cents

Black Cashmere Superfine English Hose, in sizes from 6 to

9. Prices according to size..... 45 to 65 cents

Black Superfine English Cashmere Hose, in sizes 5 1/2 to 9.

Prices from..... 45 to 65 cents

NEW RIBBONS.

The arrival of a new lot of Majestic Satin-edge Reversible

and Satin-edge Gros-grain Ribbons makes our assortment as complete as one could wish. These have been bought with special reference to the new Fall shades in dress fabrics, and the variety is large.

BLACK SILK GIRDLES.

The newest things in belts is the girdle made of black silk braid, ornamented in front with a long, curved, fancy buckle. Prices, 75 cents, $1 and $1 25.

HALE BROS &amp; CO.,

Nos. 825, 827, 829, 831, 833, 835 K St., and 1026 Ninth St.,

SACRAMENTO, CAL.

SPECIALS! SPECIALS!

FOR THIS

WEEK ONLY!

Men's Serviceable Domet Flannel Shirts, sizes

THORN AND SHINN.

THE NOTED DESPERADOES EN ROUTE TO SAN QUENTIN.

They Are Interviewed by a "Record-Union" Representative—Detective Hume's Brilliant Work.

A week or so ago the RECORD-UNION made mention of the fact that Charles H. Thorn, alias Dorsey, and George H. Shinn, two of the most daring desperadoes known to the history of the Pacific coast, had been captured at Chicago by J. B. Hume, Wells, Fargo & Company's chief detective. Mention was also made at the time of the departure of Captains E. A. Reddy and C. N. Fish, of the San Quentin State Prison, armed with requisitions to bring the desperadoes back to the prison, whence they escaped on the 1st of December, 1887.

The overland train yesterday morning carried the party through this city, en route to San Quentin.

Full details of the crimes of Dorsey and Shinn have recently been published. Thorn, who is an old criminal with a long record, and has the reputation of being one of the most desperate men with which the officers of this State have ever to deal. He stops at nothing evidently, as his Moore's Flat.

STAGE-ROBBERY EXPLOITS. Goes well to show. It was on the 1st of September, 1878, that Thorn and his partner in crime—a man named Patterson—stopped the Moore's Flat stage while it was on its way to Nevada City. They presented two cut-throat knives, armed with buckshot, at the driver and the passengers, and compelled all to get out of the stage and stand in a row on the road. Among the passengers was an elderly banker of Moore's Flat, named William Cummings, who had $8,000 or $10,000 worth of gold bars, which he was taking to Nevada City. Thorn stood guard while Patterson gathered up the spoils. When he came to Cummings, the old man resisted, exclaiming: "This is my property and you can't have it." He grappled with Patterson, and the two rolled over and over on the ground. Thorn, walking along the line of passengers, deliberately placed his hand on Cummings' head and blew the top of his head off, killing him instantly. The horrified passengers offered no further resistance, and the robbers, after taking everything of value, departed.

MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARED. Although the officers of the law scoured the country far and near, nothing more was heard of the desperadoes until over a year later. Both were captured in Chicago, brought back to California and tried. Patterson was hanged, but in the case of Thorn an obstinate "hang out" until the other eleven alleged associates to a verdict of imprisonment for life.

Dorsey and Shinn were unacquainted at this time, and they did not meet until Dorsey was confined at San Quentin. Shinn was there to serve twelve years for robbery committed in Massachusetts. He had been sentenced in 1882. During the previous year he, in company with four other men, named Moseley, Stearns, Rogers and Frazier, who had been mining near Iowa Hill, made an attempt to

ROB THE EAST BOUND OVERLAND.

Train at Cape Horn. They drew the spikes out of the rails and moved the rails so that when the train came along it ran off the track. Two of the men covered the engineers and the train with shotguns, while the others attacked the express car. The messenger got down his rifle and refused to open the door and the robbers became frightened and fled.

Railroad detective Burke of this city captured Shinn on a ranch in Colusa county, and Detective Hume and others captured the other four. Mason turned State's evidence. Stearns was sentenced to fourteen years imprisonment, but was captured by Sheriff Boege when the latter was bringing him to Court to testify at Shinn's trial. Rogers and Frazier were liberated after two juries failed to agree upon a verdict.

THEIR DARING ESCAPE.

The escape of Shinn and Dorsey from San Quentin was a neat piece of work. Late in the afternoon of December 1, 1887, Shinn, who was a prisoner there, was driving a team out of the yard. Over the wagon was a tarpaulin, under which Shinn hid. Shinn drove out of the gate toward the old ferry landing, and when the crowd of the crowd gathered there, a heavy rainstorm and the darkness aided the escape. A day or so later a row-boat, which belonged to San Quentin, was found across the bay on the Contra Costa shore, showing which way the escapees had undoubtedly fled. They were never heard of again until the recent developments came to hand.

Detective Hume, however, never gave up hope of some day bagging the men who had tracked to the end every lead that presented itself. His perseverance was finally rewarded, and his best friend stands at the head of the list of brilliant detective achievements.

ON THE TRAIN.

A "Record-Union" Man Interviews the Officers and Prisoners.

A telegram was received by the RECORD-UNION from Captain Fish, announcing that they were nearing home and would reach Sacramento at 5:30 Sunday morning.

In consequence a reporter was on hand at the depot when the train rolled in.

The party occupied the forward section of the Pullman sleeper Shoshone, and upon boarding the car it was found that Detective Hume was the only one of them astray, the others remaining in their own bunks, the idea being to attract as little attention as possible.

Warden Aull was at the depot in waiting, and during the few minutes that the train waited there, held a consultation with Mr. Hume.

It was not until after the train had passed Davisville, on the way to the bay, that the prisoners were taken from the bunks, and the reporter informed that they were at his service.

Both men were in good spirits and greeted the newspaper man pleasantly. So did Captains Fish and Reddy.

DETECTIVE HUME TALKS.

Mr. Hume consented to be interviewed first, and he and the reporter retired to another part of the car. There is not much to be said in addition to what has already been published, began the great criminal hunter. "The facts of the crimes committed by these two men are so thoroughly known to your readers as well as the particulars of their daring escape from San Quentin three years ago."

"But you can give me the particulars of how you managed to capture them."

"Oh, yes, I can—that to a certain extent. Of course there are some things that I consider best kept quiet—matters that would be given to me with understanding—and would be in duty bound not to divulge. The capture was made very quietly, and I owe much to Billy Pinkerton for the assistance he rendered me. But, if you are determined to get all you can out of me, I may as well go back a few years, and give you a rough history of how I became connected with the case and secured their escape, how I eventually ran them to earth again."

"Let me see now," he continued, after a pause, during which he did considerable hard thinking.

"When I learned of the robbery of the Moore's Flat stage, and the murder of banker Cummings, I went immediately to the scene, and remained there eight or ten days, during which time I made a very thorough investigation. It was on the eve of an election in Nevada county, and the crime did not receive the attention that it should have. The Sheriff and the other officers that it would have they had not been taken up in what they deemed something more important. Upon concluding my labors I was satisfied, morally certain, in fact—that C. H. Thorn, or Charles Dorsey, as he was then known, was one of the stage-robbers."

And was the one who murdered poor Cummings. I came to San Francisco and told Charley Aull of what I had learned, and told him what my convictions were. Charley gave me his knife and said, 'Well, Jim, if you are satisfied that Dorsey is one of the men, I know who the other is. He named Patterson, and the other developments proved that he was right, as you well know. I had photographs of both men struck out, and circulated sent out all the large cities containing a description of them and also of the property they took from the stage. We did not hear anything more about them, and as time passed on, the matter died out."

"One day, though, I received a letter

from the acting Chief of Police of St. Louis, informing me that he had made a man in jail a fire to warm ourselves. We were nearly famished, and ate raw vegetables and whatever we could lay our hands on. It was only the mental strain and excitement that kept us from giving up entirely. Every now and then we would see the mounted officers searching for us, and that did not add to our peace of mind. I was sick, and tried to persuade Shinn to go on and

LOOK OUT FOR HIMSELF. But he wouldn't do it. I was well acquainted with the country over which we were traveling, but he was not. Finally, however, we reached Bendia, and could hardly drag one foot after the other. We took the train there to St. Louis, and upon arriving there had our first square meal."

"It was the first square meal we had in nine days," added Shinn, who was attentively listening to his companion's narration.

"Well," resumed Dorsey, "we camped for some time near Sacramento, in a little cabin near Perkins, and pretended to be miners. Then we pulled up stakes for the East. We got down in Arizona near and worked at various things—all hard work. As you know, they were brought back to California and tried. Patterson was hanged, and Dorsey, or Thorn, was sent to San Quentin for life. That was the end of it. It didn't take long."

TO CAPTURE MR. DORSEY. Alias Thorn. He was doing a flourishing lumber business in Union City, and that city was greatly shocked when he was arrested for murder and stage-robbery. As you know, they were brought back to California and tried. Patterson was hanged, and Dorsey, or Thorn, was sent to San Quentin for life. That was the end of it. It didn't take long."

"It was at San Quentin that Dorsey and Shinn met and became friends. Shinn was serving time for train-robbery. They were both in the same cell at San Quentin. They are also familiar with Seamante our old friend Rogers O'Meara, who was in the same cell at San Quentin. Early this year he recognized Dorsey on the streets of Chicago, and in July last wrote a letter to the editor of Nevada City, stating that he was sure he was sure he had seen Dorsey. I heard of this letter and went to work again immediately. It was really Dorsey whom O'Meara had seen. I wanted to run Dorsey down because I was satisfied that he had been robbing stages again in California since his escape from San Quentin. Well, I went to Chicago and the rest was all plain sailing. I got back to San Quentin and we captured both Shinn and Dorsey, although when I started out I had no idea of doing so. I was only looking for Dorsey, showing me every consideration, assisting me personally and putting at my disposal the very best facilities at his disposal. On the 14th and 15th of this month, just before we made the capture, six of Pinkerton's men were helping me."

LATER DAY DEPRIVATIONS.

"Excuse me, for interrupting, but you said something about being satisfied that Dorsey and Shinn were engaged in some stage-robberies since their escape from San Quentin," suggested the reporter. "Why do you think so?"

"Don't you know so—I know so," was the detective's emphatic reply. "I do not care to go into all the details just now, though, as I have not completed my investigation. I can only say that I am satisfied that they were engaged in the robbery of the stage from Quincy to Oroville, which was stopped on the 10th of September, 1887. The stage was carrying $100,000 worth of gold bars. It was taken from Wells-Fargo's office. I followed the matter up and found that the same bar had been shipped from the United States Express office. I also traced the bar to the Mint, where it was coined into money amounting to $73,737. This and other facts and other little matters convinced me that our friends were the men. I can prove beyond all doubt that they were the men who robbed the stage, too—have been in California since they were located in Chicago. They were here at the time of those stage robberies, and also when the stage was stopped at Quincy. I have been very fortunate in my investigations of these cases. But what use is it all, except for satisfaction? I have a life sentence to serve, anyway, and it can't be made any longer. At all events, I have made a few steps in my life, or what I suppose to do."

CAPTAIN FISH INTERVIEWED.

At this juncture Captain Fish stepped up and informed Mr. Hume that his coffee was waiting. He then stepped up and seized the opportunity to escape from the reporter, leaving Captain Fish at his mercy. The Captain submitted with good grace, and complained of nothing except being sleepy and tired.

"Captain Reddy and I have alternated in watching the men constantly," he said, "and neither of us got very much rest. Mr. Hume took a turn now and then, too. The prisoners were in the train, and the train was being driven, but that did not cause us to relax in our vigilance—not much. We have kept them in irons constantly. Each wears a 14-pound iron collar, and during the day, besides being handcuffed together. At night, after putting them into their bunks, we put on their leg-locks, and they are confined there, and as an additional precaution, chained them together with leg-irons. They were given no food, but were kept in a constant state of hunger, and neither of them complained of the manner in which we treated them."

"Did you have any trouble in getting out of Chicago with the men?" asked the reporter.

"But we expected some, though, and may have had some had not the Chicago police authorities looked out for us. We had heard that some of the prisoners' friends were going to make a bold attempt to rescue them, and you can rest assured that we were prepared for them. A few minutes before the train started, we stepped into one of the big police patrol wagons, and were driven rapidly to the train. We were well guarded until the train rolled out, and no attempt of any kind was made to rescue the men."

The men were quite cheerful all the way over. Dorsey has talked freely about everything that has occurred since his escape from San Quentin, but stoutly denied that he, or Captain Reddy, had any part in the time since reaching Chicago. Both have behaved well, and ate their three meals a day regularly."

WITH THE PRISONERS.

The train now pulled up at Susan and Captain Fish got off to send some dispatches to San Quentin informing Warden McComb of the arrival of the prisoners.

The reporter wended his way back to where the maniacal prisoners were sitting, and was invited to take a seat beside Captain Reddy, who was sitting next to him. This afforded an excellent opportunity for closely studying their countenances and general make-ups.

Shinn is a very ordinary appearing man, of medium build, sandy complexion, red hair and a heavy nose. He is dressed about him of the criminal stamp, except his tricky blue eyes.

Dorsey, however, is a rare specimen. He is a man of a thousand. High cheek bones, lantern jaws, stiff and stubby gray mustache and sunken cheeks, all give him a sinister and yet strangely attractive expression. The eyes, though, are the greatest feature. They are almost coal black, and very deep set. They appear to be constantly on the alert for some one approaching danger, and are never at ease. Dorsey is fully six feet in height, broad-shouldered, and muscular looking, with unusually intelligent and most interesting conversationalist. Quite the reverse of Shinn.

"How am I feeling?" echoed Dorsey, when addressed by the reporter. "Oh, pretty good, under the circumstances, considering the difference in my mental and physical condition—the difference between today and the last time I was in here. I feel better, and I am pointed out of the window to the country west of Bendia."

The last time I was there," he resumed, "after a few moments of deep thought, I could hardly drag one foot after the other. I was more dead than alive, and the wonder I never succeeded as I did, in getting away."

I WOULD HAVE DIED. In those times, had not George (meaning Shinn) begged me to keep up heart and fight it out. I wanted him to go on and leave me to the mercy of the law. I had that money I had and made his escape. I felt that I could never pull through, and did not want to jeopardize his chances. But he would not listen to the proposition and said that if I stopped he would stop. So I took heart again and trudged bravely on. George stood it better than I did, but I came to become sick."

"You refer to the events immediately following your escape?" queried the reporter.

"Yes."

"You endured many hardships?"

"Hardship? Let me tell you, young man, nobody can conceive, nobody knows, or ever can know, what we suffered. It was in winter, and the weather was so bad that it was storming furiously at the time. We left San Quentin in a boat and landed on the Contra Costa shore, drenched with rain and cold. We were so weak and so cold that we could not move. We struck out immediately for the hills. We had to hide in the brush by day and travel

what little we could by night. It rained all the time, yet we did not have a fire to warm ourselves. We were nearly famished, and ate raw vegetables and whatever we could lay our hands on. It was only the mental strain and excitement that kept us from giving up entirely. Every now and then we would see the mounted officers searching for us, and that did not add to our peace of mind. I was sick, and tried to persuade Shinn to go on and

LOOK OUT FOR HIMSELF. But he wouldn't do it. I was well acquainted with the country over which we were traveling, but he was not. Finally, however, we reached Bendia, and could hardly drag one foot after the other. We took the train there to St. Louis, and upon arriving there had our first square meal."

"It was the first square meal we had in nine days," added Shinn, who was attentively listening to his companion's narration.

"Well," resumed Dorsey, "we camped for some time near Sacramento, in a little cabin near Perkins, and pretended to be miners. Then we pulled up stakes for the East. We got down in Arizona near and worked at various things—all hard work. As you know, they were brought back to California and tried. Patterson was hanged, and Dorsey, or Thorn, was sent to San Quentin for life. That was the end of it. It didn't take long."

TO CAPTURE MR. DORSEY. Alias Thorn. He was doing a flourishing lumber business in Union City, and that city was greatly shocked when he was arrested for murder and stage-robbery. As you know, they were brought back to California and tried. Patterson was hanged, and Dorsey, or Thorn, was sent to San Quentin for life. That was the end of it. It didn't take long."

"It was at San Quentin that Dorsey and Shinn met and became friends. Shinn was serving time for train-robbery. They were both in the same cell at San Quentin. They are also familiar with Seamante our old friend Rogers O'Meara, who was in the same cell at San Quentin. Early this year he recognized Dorsey on the streets of Chicago, and in July last wrote a letter to the editor of Nevada City, stating that he was sure he was sure he had seen Dorsey. I heard of this letter and went to work again immediately. It was really Dorsey whom O'Meara had seen. I wanted to run Dorsey down because I was satisfied that he had been robbing stages again in California since his escape from San Quentin. Well, I went to Chicago and the rest was all plain sailing. I got back to San Quentin and we captured both Shinn and Dorsey, although when I started out I had no idea of doing so. I was only looking for Dorsey, showing me every consideration, assisting me personally and putting at my disposal the very best facilities at his disposal. On the 14th and 15th of this month, just before we made the capture, six of Pinkerton's men were helping me."

LATER DAY DEPRIVATIONS.

"Excuse me, for interrupting, but you said something about being satisfied that Dorsey and Shinn were engaged in some stage-robberies since their escape from San Quentin," suggested the reporter. "Why do you think so?"

"Don't you know so—I know so," was the detective's emphatic reply. "I do not care to go into all the details just now, though, as I have not completed my investigation. I can only say that I am satisfied that they were engaged in the robbery of the stage from Quincy to Oroville, which was stopped on the 10th of September, 1887. The stage was carrying $100,000 worth of gold bars. It was taken from Wells-Fargo's office. I followed the matter up and found that the same bar had been shipped from the United States Express office. I also traced the bar to the Mint, where it was coined into money amounting to $73,737. This and other facts and other little matters convinced me that our friends were the men. I can prove beyond all doubt that they were the men who robbed the stage, too—have been in California since they were located in Chicago. They were here at the time of those stage robberies, and also when the stage was stopped at Quincy. I have been very fortunate in my investigations of these cases. But what use is it all, except for satisfaction? I have a life sentence to serve, anyway, and it can't be made any longer. At all events, I have made a few steps in my life, or what I suppose to do."

CAPTAIN FISH INTERVIEWED.

At this juncture Captain Fish stepped up and informed Mr. Hume that his coffee was waiting. He then stepped up and seized the opportunity to escape from the reporter, leaving Captain Fish at his mercy. The Captain submitted with good grace, and complained of nothing except being sleepy and tired.

"Captain Reddy and I have alternated in watching the men constantly," he said, "and neither of us got very much rest. Mr. Hume took a turn now and then, too. The prisoners were in the train, and the train was being driven, but that did not cause us to relax in our vigilance—not much. We have kept them in irons constantly. Each wears a 14-pound iron collar, and during the day, besides being handcuffed together. At night, after putting them into their bunks, we put on their leg-locks, and they are confined there, and as an additional precaution, chained them together with leg-irons. They were given no food, but were kept in a constant state of hunger, and neither of them complained of the manner in which we treated them."

"Did you have any trouble in getting out of Chicago with the men?" asked the reporter.

"But we expected some, though, and may have had some had not the Chicago police authorities looked out for us. We had heard that some of the prisoners' friends were going to make a bold attempt to rescue them, and you can rest assured that we were prepared for them. A few minutes before the train started, we stepped into one of the big police patrol wagons, and were driven rapidly to the train. We were well guarded until the train rolled out, and no attempt of any kind was made to rescue the men."

THEIR DARING ESCAPE.

The escape of Shinn and Dorsey from San Quentin was a neat piece of work. Late in the afternoon of December 1, 1887, Shinn, who was a prisoner there, was driving a team out of the yard. Over the wagon was a tarpaulin, under which Shinn hid. Shinn drove out of the gate toward the old ferry landing, and when the crowd of the crowd gathered there, a heavy rainstorm and the darkness aided the escape. A day or so later a row-boat, which belonged to San Quentin, was found across the bay on the Contra Costa shore, showing which way the escapees had undoubtedly fled. They were never heard of again until the recent developments came to hand.

Detective Hume, however, never gave up hope of some day bagging the men who had tracked to the end every lead that presented itself. His perseverance was finally rewarded, and his best friend stands at the head of the list of brilliant detective achievements.

ON THE TRAIN.

A "Record-Union" Man Interviews the Officers and Prisoners.

A telegram was received by the RECORD-UNION from Captain Fish, announcing that they were nearing home and would reach Sacramento at 5:30 Sunday morning.

In consequence a reporter was on hand at the depot when the train rolled in.

The party occupied the forward section of the Pullman sleeper Shoshone, and upon boarding the car it was found that Detective Hume was the only one of them astray, the others remaining in their own bunks, the idea being to attract as little attention as possible.

Warden Aull was at the depot in waiting, and during the few minutes that the train waited there, held a consultation with Mr. Hume.

It was not until after the train had passed Davisville, on the way to the bay, that the prisoners were taken from the bunks, and the reporter informed that they were at his service.

Both men were in good spirits and greeted the newspaper man pleasantly. So did Captains Fish and Reddy.

DETECTIVE HUME TALKS.

Mr. Hume consented to be interviewed first, and he and the reporter retired to another part of the car. There is not much to be said in addition to what has already been published, began the great criminal hunter. "The facts of the crimes committed by these two men are so thoroughly known to your readers as well as the particulars of their daring escape from San Quentin three years ago."

"But you can give me the particulars of how you managed to capture them."

"Oh, yes, I can—that to a certain extent. Of course there are some things that I consider best kept quiet—matters that would be given to me with understanding—and would be in duty bound not to divulge. The capture was made very quietly, and I owe much to Billy Pinkerton for the assistance he rendered me. But, if you are determined to get all you can out of me, I may as well go back a few years, and give you a rough history of how I became connected with the case and secured their escape, how I eventually ran them to earth again."

"Let me see now," he continued, after a pause, during which he did considerable hard thinking.

"When I learned of the robbery of the Moore's Flat stage, and the murder of banker Cummings, I went immediately to the scene, and remained there eight or ten days, during which time I made a very thorough investigation. It was on the eve of an election in Nevada county, and the crime did not receive the attention that it should have. The Sheriff and the other officers that it would have they had not been taken up in what they deemed something more important. Upon concluding my labors I was satisfied, morally certain, in fact—that C. H. Thorn, or Charles Dorsey, as he was then known, was one of the stage-robbers."

And was the one who murdered poor Cummings. I came to San Francisco and told Charley Aull of what I had learned, and told him what my convictions were. Charley gave me his knife and said, 'Well, Jim, if you are satisfied that Dorsey is one of the men, I know who the other is. He named Patterson, and the other developments proved that he was right, as you well know. I had photographs of both men struck out, and circulated sent out all the large cities containing a description of them and also of the property they took from the stage. We did not hear anything more about them, and as time passed on, the matter died out."

"One day, though, I received a letter

DEMAS STRONG.

One of the Earliest Settlers of Sacramento. He was a member of the first Common Council chosen in Sacramento after the State was admitted into the Union, and on the death of Mayor Playhouse he was elected Mayor of the city.

A RECORD-UNION reporter who called upon Mr. Strong last evening, the latter related many interesting sketches of the memorable "winter of '49 and spring of '50." He arrived at the "embarrasado," or landing, on the river front, on the 13th of April, 1849. He was a member of the party of gold-seeking aragonians known as the Eureka Gold Mining Company. They were met at the landing by General Sutter, who brought a splendid dinner to the river and escorted them out through a trail that led through the brush and oak trees to the gold fields. They were entertained by him in a royal and hospitable manner, wines, liquors and cigars following a sumptuous feast.

After a short rest the party set out for the gold fields. They were accompanied by the Eureka Gold Mining Company. They had brought from New York a gold-washing machine, a new-fangled concern invented by a man who knew nothing of gold-mining—but it seemed to be just what the miners wanted. As soon as they got into the camp, but the offer was refused.

The next day the Eureka Gold Mining Company set its machine up in the bed of the creek near the old Sutter mill. Three men, the Eureka men, and the reporter, struck out, each on his own hook, with pans and picks, to make their fortunes. The machine was a dead failure.

Mr. Strong, however, opened a store in Coloma, and then returned to Sacramento and opened a store in San Francisco. He remained in San Francisco and started another store. Although he soon afterward went back to New York, he has remained in California ever since. In 1856 he came back here with Colonel E. D. Baker to stump the State for General Fremont. While on that visit he sold his Sacramento property, consisting chiefly of a lot of lots on I street, between Seventh and Eighth. An anti-confident Democrat agreed to purchase the lot for $800 each (twenty feet frontage) if Fremont should carry New York State, while a confident Democrat agreed to purchase the lot for $1,000 each if Fremont should lose New York State.

Mr. Strong has been a prominent figure in New York politics, and is President of the New York Society of California Pioneers. He will remain in this city a few days, after which he will visit Coloma, in company with his daughters, to show them the place where he first struck gold. "In the days of old—in the days of '49"—but where he made his first business venture in the Golden State.

Shocking Accident at Lincoln.

A gentleman of this city states that he learned by telegram that on Thursday last, Joseph Pacheco, who, with his husband, kept a small boarding-house at Lincoln, was fatally burned a few evenings ago by the explosion of a lamp. Her clothing caught fire, and she was so shockingly burned that she died the next day.

The family were very poor, and the neighbors generously raised money to defray the expenses of the funeral. The unfortunate woman left eight children, the eldest of whom is but 11 years of age.

Recruits for Folsom.

Last evening Deputy Sheriff Costello of San Francisco came en route to Folsom with John Banks, the colored bell boy, who was convicted of burglary in feloniously entering a room in the Palace Hotel, on the 1st of last month, and was discovered by Mrs. Morse in the act of taking a purse from a valise. He was given a three-year term.

The officer also brought up Matthias Fullman, who goes for seven years for robbery.

Republican Meeting.

To-morrow evening there will be a Republican meeting at Eighteenth and M streets, at which E. C. Hart, Elwood Bruner, candidates for the Assembly, and others will speak.

The Deaf in Ireland Find a Good Thing.

DUBLIN, October 26th.—But few American inventions have been as readily adopted in Ireland as the invention for deafness of H. A. Wales of Bridgeport, Conn., called the sound disc, and the result is that in use has in many cases been marvellous.

Dude Velt Hate was Worth $7 50. Per dozen wholesale. We made a heavy purchase of them last July, closing out all a wholesale dealer, and are retelling the same for 25c. See show window. The high crown wide brim, and flat crown wide brim we are selling for 50c. Misses' hats, too, in great variety. The colors are worn considerably by many. Get our prices. Majestic caps, in forty different qualities and colors. Prices from 25c to $1 25. Very stylish made in twenty minutes. Millinery department, Red House.

"COMPOUND SULPHUR POWDER" (but only by the W. H. Bone Co., No. 12 Bush street, San Francisco) gives the best satisfaction of any remedy on the market. It thoroughly cleanses the blood, and for habitual constipation, indigestion, biliousness, piles, etc., it has no equal. Kirk, Geary & Co.

Cut beads in all colors. Black beaded beads for trimming hats. All sizes in gilt cords. Any size of beads and cords, wings, Austrian tips and plaques in the new style, at millinery department, Red House.

BERNARD'S pills cure bilious, nervous, etc.

It has been said—and proven to be true on several occasions—that when severe and heavy storms were prevalent upon the Atlantic coast good or stormless weather held sway upon the Pacific coast. The telegraph has for weeks past been giving us the news of winds, tornadoes and heavy rains from the Missouri river to the Atlantic coast, and the Gulf of Mexico, and the great chain of North American lakes, which seems to prove the above theory correct—that is, severe storms east of the Rocky mountains insure stormless weather on the Pacific slope south of Oregon.

The highest and lowest temperature one year ago yesterday was 62° and 68°; and 70° of an inch of rain. The highest and lowest temperature one year ago yesterday was 62° and 68°; and 70° of an inch of rain.

THE MEMORIAL WINDOW.

Unveiled With Special Services at St. Paul's Church Yesterday.

St. Paul's Church was crowded to its fullest capacity yesterday on the occasion of the unveiling of the beautiful and costly memorial window, the gift of Mrs. Leland Stanford in the name of her deceased son.

The services were of a special character and impressive. Bishop Wingfield preached the sermon of the day, and the Rev. Mr. Herrieh, made brief but appropriate remarks relative to Mrs. Stanford's handsome gift.

Near the close of the services the screen was removed from the window, and the sunlight streaming through the colored glass revealed the figures and other designs in all their marvellous beauty. (The window was fully described in these columns last week.) The hands of the artist who designed and placed it in position had already obliterated the effects of the fracture made in the glass on Friday.

Military Services.

Special services for the local military companies were held at St. Paul's Church last evening. Scores of persons were unable to gain admission, so great was the throng. There were a large number of members of the First Artillery Regiment and the Second Cavalry, and the musical band assisted the choir. Bishop Wingfield was present. The sermon was delivered by Rev. Mr. Herrieh.

REVEREND PICKLED BUTTER, 45 cents per roll. J. McMoray, grocer, Fourth and M.

CHANGED DAILY FOR WEINSTOCK, LUBIN &amp; CO.

Tuesday Morning at 9:30

Men's Calfskin Congress or elastic side Shoes; two styles of toes, one broad and plain, the other medium with a tip. These Shoes are cut seamless on the sides, that is, the vamp or front is made of one piece

MISCELLANEOUS.

BAKER & HAMILTON,
—IMPORTERS AND JOBBERS OF—
HARDWARE,
IRON, STEEL, COAL, POWDER,

Agricultural Implements & Machines, Wire,
Cordage, Belting, etc.
—DEALERS IN—
Sacramento Lumber Company { LUMBER, DOORS, WIN-
DOWS AND BLINDS.
Main Office: Second street, L and M. Yard: Front and K streets, Sacramento.

THE FAIR IS OVER!
And all now have an opportunity to call at
N. ZEMANSKY'S 300 J Street,
Where can be found CLOTHING, HOOFS, SHOES, HATS,
CAPS and UNDERWEAR
AT LOWEST PRICES.

DRS. J. EBIG & CO., the Oldest and Most Reliable Specialists on the Pacific Coast, 60 Geary Street, San Francisco, and 12 Broadway, New York City, continue to develop and permanent cure all chronic, special, private and wasting diseases, no matter how complicated or long standing. Blood and skin diseases, mental weakness, Loss of Vigor and Manhood, Prostatitis, Syphilis, etc., are shown and illustrated, and explained why thousands who get cured of above diseases and conditions.

Dr. Ebig's Wonderful German Invenigorator
a specific for above complaints.
No more CURATIVE BUT A SPECIFIC ON AFFECTION.

DOCTOR LIEBIG & CO.

UNDERTAKERS,

REEVES & LONG,
UNDERTAKERS,
No. 609 J Street,
WE CAN HAND EVERYTHING IN THE
Undertaking business. Also, agents for undestructible Burial Caskets (made of cement), orders from all countries attended to at all hours. NO JOB TOO SMALL or too costly.
J. FRANK CLARK, COUNTRY CORNER & UNDERTAKER,
No. 1017 Fourth St., bet. J and K.

I ALWAYS ON HAND THE MOST COMPLETE stock of UNDERTAKING GOODS on the West Coast. Country orders day or night, will receive prompt attention. Telephone No. 182.
J.F. CLARK Funeral Director

W.J. KAUNAUGH,
UNDERTAKER
No. 513 J St., bet. Fifth and Sixth.

I ALWAYS ON HANI A LARGE ASSORT-

LICUORS, WINE, BEER, ETC.

CONCORDIA BEER HALL,
No. 1051 Fourth Street.
HAVING MADE EXTENSIVE IMPROVE- ments the public are now cordially invited to inspect our stock of liquors of all kinds Buffalo Beer on draught and in bottles. The finest Wines, Liquors and Clgars on hand.

Day's by
R. F. RICE, Proprietor.

"BREWERY"
CORNER FOURTH AND BROAD STS.
BUFFALO BEER
MILLER'S PATENT BREWERY
SPECIAL LIGHT PILSENER BEER
WARD CASE

orders will receive prompt attention on short notice and at the lowest rates. Office open day and night.

J. MILLER
(Successor to Fritz & Miller),
45

UNDER TAKER
OF THE 18 OLD FELLOWS TEMPLE Ninth & K streets. Complete stock of caskets and caskets made to order.
and country orders promptly attended to, day or night, at reasonable rates. Telephone 180. 46

NOTICE
TO Contractors and Builders.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF THE Prison School of Industry, Room 121 Phelan Building, San Francisco, Cal., October 28, 1899.—By order of the State Board of Prison Prisoners, we seal and propose to seal the following bids for the erection of the Prison School of Industry, 1221 Phelan Block, San Francisco, Cal., up to and including the date of the opening of the bids on the 11th day of November, 1899, for the several prizes of labor, concrete, brick, stone, etc., to be furnished for the erection of buildings for the use of the Prison School of Industry, San Francisco, Cal., to wit:

Wm. J. Kemp's
ST. LOUIS AND PILSENER-BEHEMIA
BOTTLED AND BOTTLED AT WISSEN
B MANN'S SALOON, 1020 Fourth St., Fam- ilies and saloons supplied by the bottle or car- ry. FRISCHBACH & CO., Agents.

EBNER BROS.,
IMPORTERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS IN
WINES AND LIQUORS,
116 and 118 S. C. bet. Front and Second, San Fran-
AGENTS FOR THE CELEBRATED
FOKKERY AND CHATEAU CHAMPAGNE
121m

M. CRONAN,
Importer and Wholesale Dealer in Fine Wines, Brandies and Champagne
230 K Street, and 1108-1110 Third Street,
Sacramento, Cal. 4414

JAMES WOODBURN,

I fine Whiskies, Brandy, Wines and Liquors.
No. 417 K Street, Sacramento.

Thanking my old friends and patrons for their kindness and patronage I am glad to say that of the same. ~~all~~ All orders will be promptly and carefully filled. apl-46p

BUSINESS CARDS.

MRS. MARION STIRLING, M. D.,
LATE LADY PRINCIPAL OF DIFFERENT
Medical College for women, and Superintendent of several Hospitals and Dispensaries, in Northern British Columbia, has opened an office and a dispensary. OFFICE—ROOM 2, CLOCK A. M. until 4 o'clock P. M. at the office of
JAMES H. FLOOD BUILDING, SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF.

H. B. ROOT, ALEX. NELSON, J. DEMBO,

UNION FOUNDRY-IRON AND BRASS
Founders and Machinists, Front Street, between 8 and 9. Castings and machinery of every description made to order. 4p

ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW.
R. F. FENDERY, M. D.,
HAS RETURNED AND RESUMED PRACTICE
at the old Postoffice building corner
Fourth and K streets. 10-11

CHARLES H. OATMAN,
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW.
Office—420 J street, Sacramento, Cal.
Notary Public. 9-11

CLINTON L. WHITE,
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR-AT-LAW
Office—201 J street, Sacramento, Cal.
Wells, Fargo & Co.'s, N. E. corner Second and J streets, Sacramento, Cal. Telephone 247. 9-11

L. H. HART,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW—OFFICE: SOUTHwest corner Fifth and J streets. Rooms 12, 13 and 14. 10-11

THOMAS W. HUMPHREY,
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW.
Southwest corner Seventh and J streets.
Notary Public, Collections. Sacramento, Cal.
10-11

F. F. TEBBETS,
DENTIST, 914 SIXTH STREET,
between I and J streets. Corner opposite Congressional Church. 10-11

DR. W. C. REITH,
DENTIST, LINCOLN BUILD- ing, between I and J streets. 10-11

ROBERT D. FINNIE,
(Successor to P. H. RUSSELL.)
IMPORTER AND DEALER IN FINEST
TABLE DELICACIES.

WINE TESTERS AND COFFEES TO BE FOUND in the market. Kentucky Blue Grass seed and seedlings is made of the BEST QUALITY of CUTTER.

719 J STREET.

Wood-working
MACHINERY
Of all kinds, of Best Make, and at the LOWEST PRICES.
SAXWILL and SHINGLES MACHINERY.
Hoe Chisel Tooth Saws, etc.

ENGINE GOVERNORS
Iron-Working Tools,
Crosby Steam Ganges
ENGINES and BOILERS
OF ANY CAPACITY, Etc

TAXUM & BOWEN,
Sole Agents for the State of California,
NEW MACHINERY and Agents.
DR. JORDAN & CO.'S MUSEUM OF ANATOMY,
751 Market st., San Francisco,
Admission, 25 Cents.

Come and learn how to avoid disease,
consultation and treatment
personally or by letter on sperm microscopic analysis.

DI-DENTIST, CORNER SEVENTH and G streets, over Lyon's Dry Goods Store.

DENTAL SURGERY.
FRED. H. METCALF, D. D. S.
PREPARED TO TAKE THE
latest operations pertaining to the profession.
Southwest corner of Eighth and J streets, Sacramento.  Just-ly

DR. H. H. PIERSON,

511 J Street, Sacramento.

ELECTION NOTICE.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT IN pursuance of an order of the Board of Supervisors of Sacramento county, this day made,
an order of election of Trustees of Swamp Land Reclamation District No. 8, on Grand Island in said county, will be held at the residence of A.
T. J. REYNOLDS, in said district, on the 11th day of NOVEMBER, 1890, between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M. THOMAS H. WILLIAMS JR. is appointed Inspector, and ISAAC G. RAIL, and HARRY SMITH are appointed Judges of said election.

Order of 1890.
(SEAL) W. B. HAMILTON, County Clerk of Sacramento.

[illegible]